

CALL FOR SPEAKERS

Submission Deadline: January 13, 2012

Utilimetrics is accepting original proposals for Autovation 2012: The Smart Utility Conference and Expo September 30 – October 3 at the Long Beach Convention Center in Long Beach, California. Utility industry professionals are encouraged to submit proposals for education session paper presentations and panel discussions.

Utilimetrics, a not-for-profit trade association, will celebrate its 25th anniversary in 2012, a major milestone in this industry. 2012 also marks Utilimetrics' 25th annual conference and expo.

About Autovation

Autovation is the premier educational forum for utility technology, management, and operations. Education sessions cover every aspect of the utility technology lifecycle from building a business case to moving beyond the meter and into the smart grid. The industry's most innovative suppliers showcase their products and services in the expo.

Autovation attendees

Autovation attendees include electric, gas and water professionals from investor owned, municipal and electric cooperative utilities as well as industry suppliers, consultants and investors.

Why you should consider speaking at Autovation

If selected to speak, you will be presenting to, and networking with, professionals from all over the world. This is an outstanding opportunity to share your knowledge, experiences, best practices, challenges and solutions with industry colleagues. Preference will be given to presentations by and/or including utility presenters.

Program Scope

Proposals should focus on strategic as well as practical business solutions related to technology selection, implementation, and getting the best return on your investment.

We are Vendor Neutral

Proposals must be non-commercial and unbiased. Preference will be given to presentations by and/or including utility presenters. Suppliers submitting proposals must include utility presenters in their sessions.

All submittals will be reviewed and considered by the Program Committee. Acceptance notifications will be sent to presenters by April, 2012. If you have questions, please contact:

Debby Scheck, Utilimetrics Education Director at dscheck@utilimetrics.org or 847-227-0477

Conference registration is required for speakers.
Utility presenters receive complimentary registration.
